

Individual coaching to TARGET IDENTIFIED NEEDS

Ethos CRS delivers coaching Australia wide

Develop and sharpen specific skills

Sometimes your skills have to be developed and sharpened to suit your developmental and professional needs.

A structured coaching program builds skills and confidence quickly and efficiently. Coaching ensures that professionals receive the exact assistance and support they need to succeed in their roles.

The process of coaching is simple, no matter how complex the task. Your Ethos CRS coach will work with you to define needs and outcomes, and to construct the optimal program that will prepare you to perform to a higher standard. They have your back covered, whether you want to give a captivating keynote address, become a persuasive speaker or a sharper negotiator, make more effective decisions as a regulator or policy maker, or produce clearer and more compelling documents.

The coaches at Ethos CRS are experts in the fields of communications, leadership, policy and regulation. Sessions can be delivered face to face, over the phone or by Skype.
